HIGH SCHOOL PRINCIPAL OF THE YEAR FINALISTS SELECTED

Orange Beach, Ala: Three high school principals have been selected as finalists for the Alabama High School Principal of the Year Award. Dr. Adam Clemons, principal of Athens High School; Jeremy Madden principal of Fayette County High School; and Pinson Valley High School principal, Michael Turner, are the three finalists for the award.

All three finalists were interviewed by a Principal of the Year selection committee at the 2019 AASSP/AAMSP Fall Conference on November 12. One overall winner will be chosen as the High School Principal of the Year, which will be announced in January.

The Alabama High School Principal of the Year Award is sponsored by the Alabama Association of Secondary School Principals and American Fidelity.

AASSP is grateful to American Fidelity for their continued support and recognition of outstanding Alabama public school administrators.
